

Mqondisi Gumede

Mqondisi has spent much of his career as a technology advisor for business and has given a number of perspectives on the relevance of the 4th Industrial Revolution, Big Data and related technology aspects that business is grappling with today.

Much of his work has been in the financial services industries giving him relevant insight to the challenges of the industry and frequently interacts with the industry as evidenced by his Keynote address at the CFO Get Smarter Summit in Johannesburg in February 2019, an event only opened to member CFOs and CHROs of the CFO South Africa, his opening keynote address at the 2018 Finance Indaba and speaking contributions at the same event in 2017.

This paired with insight from solution engineering for some of clients' toughest challenges have given Mqondisi a broad and deep understanding of the technological challenges particularly as it relates to engaging people, strategically aligning to business goals and objectives in a practical and attainable way the South African business context.

Mqondisi is Founder and CEO of the customer success company, The OMG, a sought after corporate and conference keynote speaker and is a knowledge merchant at IC Knowledge Bureau.

The OMG is a company that uses Uncommon Sense to assist customers radically grow their businesses. IC Knowledge Bureau aims to provide the top 1% of thinking to inspire customers to exponential growth.

Mqondisi has the aim of providing fit for purpose knowledge necessary to inspire the growth of the South African economy to grow 6 times its annual turnover in all industries in the next 20 years.

He is skilled in the use of a number of highly valuable intangible tools, concepts and frameworks drawn from the humanities and social sciences that allows him to bring a fresh approach to strategy, technology and operations considerations

Areas of Expertise

- 4th Industrial Revolution
- Big Data
- Technology
- Exponential growth